LUXURY RESIDENCES
DESIGNED BY MEYER DAVIS STUDIO

Proper Living at the Intersection of Creativity and Contemporary Style

Midtown Park Residences By Proper, located in the vibrant heart of Midtown Miami, steps from the Design District, Wynwood, and Edgewater, is the latest offering from renowned developers Rosso Development and Midtown Development. This is Proper Hospitality's second branded residential project, building on the success of the Austin Proper Residences, which set a new benchmark for design-driven living. Midtown Park will debut alongside the highly anticipated reopening of The Shelborne By Proper on Miami Beach's iconic Millionaire's Row.

The signature tower at Midtown Park is designed by the renowned firm Arquitectonica, with interiors crafted by the award-winning Meyer Davis Studio. Every corner of the property is thoughtfully curated to reflect Proper Hospitality's signature approach to design, culture, and hospitality across their portfolio of luxury lifestyle hotels and residences nationwide.

"With Midtown Park Residences, we're not just introducing a new living experience—we're defining a new chapter of Proper. 'By Proper' captures the essence of our brand while celebrating the artistry of world-class designers who shape each destination. As we prepare to unveil the iconic Shelborne By Proper, Midtown Park Residences further exemplifies this ethos—where inspired design, thoughtful hospitality, and a deep sense of place come together to create something truly special for Miami."
